

Miss Shollenberger Wins Scholarship

Elizabeth Shollenberger, a senior at Circleville High School, has been named a winner of a $1,000 scholarship from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The scholarship is a one-time, nonrenewable award that is allocated on a state basis.

ELIZABETH SHOLLENBERGER

According to the guidance office at Circleville High School, this is only the second time in the school's history that a student has been awarded a scholarship through the corporation. Mary Ann Yates received a similar grant in 1967.

Several students are named semifinalists each year and some go on to become finalists. This year's four semifinalists from CHS all went on to a finalist standing. The other three were Jack Lauderdale, Tamara Miller and Dean Gulick.

Miss Shollenberger is the daughter of Mrs. Nancy Shollenberger, 131 Dunmore Road. She plans to continue her education after graduation in June at Princeton University where she will study pre-law.

During her high school career, she has been active in the In The Know

Team, Girl Scout First Class, Service Over Self Club, National Honor Society, Latin Honor Society, English Merit Society, and Science Club. She was a member of the Scholarship teams in American history, English, Spanish and Latin. She is also co-valedictorian of her graduating class.

Miss Shollenberger was chosen as a scholarship winner in open competition with other finalists in the state. The competition is based on demonstrated academic performance and high potential for future accomplishment. Financial need is not a factor in the selection. The committee evaluates such factors as test performance high school grades and level of course work completed, achievements outside the classroom, qualities of leadership and citizenship and endorsement by the school. Miss Shollenberger was judged by the selection committee to have the best combination of abilities and promise.

Her award is sponsored by the Uniroyal, Inc. through the Uniroyal Foundation. The company is a leading maker of tires and related products, chemicals, rubber, plastics, footwear and other consumer and industrial products. In addition to this award, the company awards annually ten four-year Merit Scholarships to qualifying children of Uniroyal employees.

Acceptance of the scholarship from the corporation will in no way inhibit Miss Shollenberger from accepting grants or scholarships from other sources. She has applied for several scholarships from other foundations.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation is an independent, non-profit organization. It was established in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York to administer the program, the largest independently financed scholarship program in the United States. This year approximately 1,000 winners were selected to receive the $1,000 grants in the entire nation.

Sewage Treatment Plant Bids Opened

Construction bids for the proposed sewerage treatment plant for Circleville were opened Tuesday noon in city hall and were "disappointingly high" according to utilities director Charles Taylor.

The two low bidders at the present appear to be Charles Shook Co. of Dayton, and Wander Co. of Worthington Taylor stated.

Shook's bid yesterday was for $5,577,700 total including earth movement at the plant site and a bid including alternates of $5,647,700.

Wander's bid was $5,511,074 including earth movement and with alternates $5,998,074. The design engineers, Hazen and Sawyer, will evaluate all bids received and make a recommendation by Monday concerning the contract according to Taylor.

"I feel we will never be able to do the job any cheaper," Taylor noted. "It is definitely not what we were looking for, but we had six of the best companies in the country bidding. I feel the costs are as near today's market as they can be."

Taylor said the board of utilities felt that a way could be found to award the contract and stay within the rate structure formulated nearly two years ago.

However, he noted the electrical contract appeared to be completely out of line with the engineer's estimate and this part would be rebid.

Last Aug. 23 the city opened bids on the proposed treatment plant and refused both received on the basis they were too high. The low bid at that time was $6,770,000 submitted by Wander Co.

The board of utilities ordered the designers of the plant to trim all frills possible from the plant to bring the construction costs within line with the amount approved for federal funding.

Hazen and Sawyer estimated they trimmed about $700,000 from the original plan, but because of inflation could not approach the original construction estimate of $4,719,000.

The amount of funding received by the city for construction of the plant, a 48-inch interceptor line to replace the lift station at Ted Lewis Park and a line from Ted Lewis Park to the plant site west of the Scioto River and south of Route 22 totaled $6,736,000.

Of the total funded, $5,052,675 is an actual government grant and $1,683,325 must be repaid by the city. Cost of the interceptor line was estimated at $900,000 and cost of the line from the park to the plant site at $500,000. Both of these estimates will have to be revised upward because of inflation according to Taylor.

There were six contractors submitting bids on the project.

Here are the bids: Mosser Contracting Co., Fremont, $6,713,400 general, with alternates included $6,893,100; Jones and Lewis Construction Co., Bingham, N.Y., $7,276,000 general, with alternates included $7,576,000; Adrian Construction Co., Dayton, $5,768,745 general, with alternates included $5,898,745; Wander Co., Worthington, $5,511,074 general, with alternates included $5,998,074; Charles Shook Co., Dayton, $5,577,700 general, with alternates included $5,647,700; Bay Construction Co., $6,632,520 general, with alternates included $6,712,520.

The above bids include earthwork. One bid was submitted for earthwork only by George Arland Co. in the amount of $195,400. The electrical bid submitted by Gustav-Hirsh was $830,880 and will be rejected.

The heating and ventilating contract bid submitted by Limbach Co. was $223,000.

BID OPENING — Among those present when bids for the city's sewage treatment plant were opened Tuesday were, from the left, Councilman Ben Gordon, board of public utilities members David Yates and George Fissell, Mayor Frank Barnhill and Public Utilities Director Charles Taylor. Behind Taylor is Francis P. Coughlan Jr. a representative of Hazen and Sawyer, engineers for the plant. Bids were high but the board of utilities hopes to be able to award the contract.

'Kidnaped' Banker Took Money Loss

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A former business associate of Albert L. Dantzer, a bank official who says he was kidnaped for $60,000 ransom, says Dantzer suffered a heavy financial setback last year. A police source said Dantzer is being investigated for extortion.

Larry L. Van Dusseldorp said Tuesday that he and Dantzer "both took a substantial loss" last July when a private mail delivery firm they invested in went out of business.

Van Dusseldorp's statement came after the police source said Tuesday that Dantzer was being investigated in connection with a possible extortion hoax in the case.

"All I can say is we are looking into every possibility," was the only comment FBI agent Elie Scott of Miami would make about about the report. The FBI is investigating the alleged weekend kidnaping.

A source close to the inquiry, who asked that his identity not be revealed, said "Dantzer is the subject of a criminal investigation."

Dantzer could not be reached for comment.

Dantzer, an assistant vice president of City National Bank in Hallandale, about 20 miles north of Miami, called his office last Friday morning and said he was being held for $60,000.

Police said a dummy ransom package with a note asking the alleged abductors for more time was delivered according to the instructions Dantzer said his kidnapers had given him. It was never picked up.

Dantzer was found early Saturday in a residential beachfront section of Fort Lauderdale. He was wet but otherwise unharmed.

He told police he was abducted Thursday evening and was taken to sea in a small boat late Friday. He said he escaped his kidnapers by jumping into the Atlantic and swimming for hours to reach shore.

A Fort Lauderdale police officer said salt deposits on Dantzer's car, discovered Saturday nine blocks from where the banker was found, indicated that the car could not have been there for more than a few hours.

Photo Expert Claims Patty Forced To Be In Holdup

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Photographs of Patricia Hearst taken by security cameras during an April 15 bank robbery indicate she was an unwilling participant in the holdup, a photo analyst says.

Peter Davies of New York City said in a letter to the Hearst family that one picture indicates the gun Miss Hearst held was strapped under her coat to her right hand. The letter was released Tuesday.

Davies said Miss Hearst appears to have been "very much an unwilling participant" and may have been strapped to the gun to prevent her from discarding it "in a surrender or die situation."

Miss Hearst's father, newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, said the analysis "reinforces some of the things I thought. I am sure she's either being coerced — brainwashed — or being forced, but I don't know which it is, and I'm sure he (Davies) doesn't either."

Charles W. Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case, said only, "Photos are subject to various interpretations."

Davies is author of a book called "The Truth About Kent State." In the book he analyzed photos of National Guardsmen firing on a crowd of campus demonstrators in the 1970 incident in which four students died.

There has been speculation whether Miss Hearst, 20, was a willing accomplice in the $10,692 holdup in which four alleged members of the Symbionese Liberation Army are named in warrants. The SLA claims responsibility for the Feb. 4 abduction of Miss Hearst. In a message on April 3 she renounced her family and said she was joining the terrorist group.

Authorities describe the SLA as a heavily armed, multiracial organization of about 25 persons.

Bank robbery warrants have been issued for a black man and three white women photographed with Miss Hearst inside the bank. She is sought as a material witness.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bud Abbott, half of the comedy team of Abbott and Costello, died today at the age of 78. Abbott died at his home in Woodland Hills. His agent said the cause of death was not known.

Costello died in 1959, two years after the team split up.

High Court OKs Widow Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — States may give tax breaks to widows while denying them to widowers because women generally suffer a greater economic loss, the Supreme Court ruled today.

The 6 to 3 decision upheld a Florida law that gives widows a $500 property tax exemption but does not grant the same exemption to men whose wives have died.

"We deal here with a state tax law reasonably designed to further the state policy of cushioning the financial impact of spousal loss upon the sex for whom that loss imposes a disproportionately heavy burden," Justice William O. Douglas said for the majority.

Watergate Tape Said Edited, Re-Recorded

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC News says an expert hired by the White House will agree with a court-appointed team of electronics specialists which concluded that a Watergate tape with an 18½-minute gap was edited and re-recorded.

NBC newsman Carl Stern said Tuesday that the White House expert, Dr. Michael Hecker of the Stanford Research Institute, may not agree with procedures used by the other experts.

However, said Stern, Hecker will not dispute the conclusion of the six tape authorities, who said the tape underwent "the process of editing and re-recording at least five and perhaps as many as nine separate and contiguous segments."

The panel, chosen mutually by the White House and the special Watergate prosecutor, did not say if the erasure was accidental or deliberate.

But the group told U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica that "The recording controls must have been operated by hand in the making of each segment."

Sirica also heard testimony from President Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, that she may have accidentally erased some of the tape while answering a telephone.

Stern said Hecker "expects to testify whether it helps or hurts the President, and now it looks as though it will hurt."

According to NBC, a White House spokesman said late Tuesday that nothing in Stern's story came from White House sources. There would be no further comment, the spokesman told the network.

The controversial tape is a recording of a June 20, 1972, conversation between President Nixon and his former top aide, H.R. Haldeman, that took place three days after the burglary of the Democratic National Committee offices in the Watergate complex.

Fair Skies, Cool Air In Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair skies and cool temperatures spread across the nation's midsection today, while most Atlantic and Pacific coast states were drenched with rain and a scattering of light snow.

Drops in temperature from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley to the Mississippi Valley resulted in frost or freeze warnings for portions of West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan.

Skies were mostly clear from the Rockies through the Great Lakes region and into the southern Atlantic states.

Along the Pacific Coast, gusty winds tossed snow about at higher elevations while thundershowers rumbled from central California to Montana.

Although rainfall was light, a travel advisory was issued for the Sierra Nevada Mountains due to high winds and blowing snow.

Russians Send Arms To Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians have sent Syria more MIG jet fighters to bolster its Air Force in the growing air war along the Golan Heights, U.S. intelligence sources say.

They said Soviet merchant ships unloaded 12 crated MIG21s recently at the port of Latakia, along with other military equipment. These were reported to have been the first Russian fighters delivered to Syria in nearly two months.

The vessels bearing the MIGs arrived before Syrian and Soviet leaders announced last week that Russia will increase military aid to the Damascus government.

Pentagon officials discount Beirut reports that Russia has promised to send Syria the MIG25, one of the most advanced Soviet war planes.

Syria lost 185 planes in the brief war with Israel last October and Russia has replaced most of them. Air losses in the new fighting have been relatively light, but could become significant if the battles escalate.

U.S. military experts calculate the Russians have sent Syria at least 20,000 tons of weapons, ammunition and other military supplies since last November. This came on top of an estimated 60,000 tons delivered during and shortly after the 19-day war.

Meanwhile, intelligence sources reported these other developments in the Middle East:

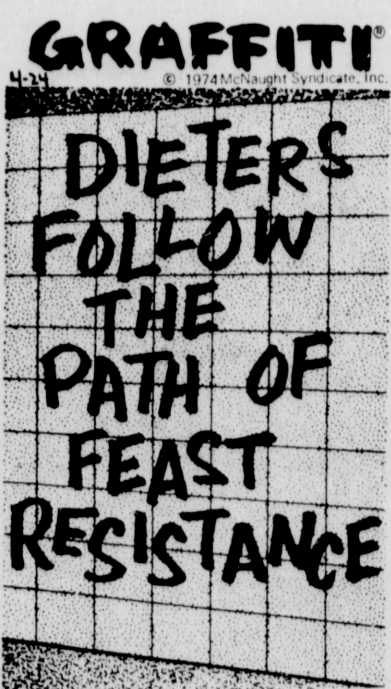

—A 3,500-man Moroccan infantry brigade is expected to move home from Egypt by air and sea before the end of April. The brigade, with 30 tanks and artillery, arrived in Egypt during the October war. Another 2,000 Moroccan soldiers still are in Syria.

—Two fast missile-armed Israeli boats have been sent on a long voyage around Africa to the Red Sea, reportedly to prevent any reinstatement of an Egyptian naval blockade there.

—A Soviet cargo ship carrying two Osa class missile-firing boats have been sighted heading for Iraq. This will bring to six the number of such powerful Russian-built craft supplied for Iraqi naval operations in the important Persian Gulf.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices registered their second sharp drop in a row in the stock market today, but the selling appeared to be cooling down at midday.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 6.26 at 839.72, and losers outnumbered gainers by about 5-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said one major source of investor uneasiness was a continued rise in banks' prime lending rates, plus the Federal Reserve Board's declared intention to stock with a relatively restrictive monetary policy in order to fight inflation.

Matsushita Electric was the Big Board's most-active stock, down 3/4 at 16 1/2 in trading that included blocks of 125,000 and 102,600 shares. The Justice Department said Motorola's plan to sell its home-television receiver business to Matsushita raised antitrust questions. Motorola was down 1 1/2 to 52 3/4.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index fell 1.01 to 91.28.

Embalmed Body In Storage Identified After 3 1/2 Years

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Martha Evans had heard the story about an embalmed body being kept in the second-floor storage room of the Woodward Funeral Home. So when she brought a beautician to do the hair of deceased friend, she asked to see it.

"Oh, my God, it's Bellhouse," she shrieked. Bellhouse was the family nickname for her brother-in-law, James Evans, who had been missing for 27 years. He was a migrant worker in the peach and apple orchards and farms along the East Coast.

His wife, Lulia Mae, now of Cranford, N.J., and the rest of the family had searched for him from Florida northward.

But it was Mrs. Evans who found him — embalmed and dressed in a black suit, white shirt, black tie and hat, standing upright under a sheet in the corner of the storage room. She discovered the body in January, but details weren't made public until she granted an interview on Tuesday.

A funeral is planned July 27, long enough away to allow Evans' wife and seven children to make arrangements to be present from New Jersey, Texas and California.

Officials said Evans died near Spartanburg 3 1/2 years ago at the age of 80. But they said no one in the family knew of the death because he had been using the alias William Bryant.

No one claimed the body at the Spartanburg General Hospital and so it was transferred to the funeral home and embalmed. Officials there tried through newspapers and radio stations to find someone to claim it, but got no

Vet's Bonus Applications Available

Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James P. Shea, announced today that Viet Nam State Bonus Applications will be available on May 20. "Information was received in the mail today," Shea said, "from John W. Push, Director of the Ohio Viet Nam Bonus Commission to the effect that application are to be distributed simultaneously by all 88 Ohio Counties at 9 a.m. on May 20."

"Although many counties indicate they will not do much more than hand an application to a veteran," Shea continued, "in Pickaway County, we plan to do more than that. In this county, we will take the time to complete the application for the veteran, and make certain it is correct. To do this, will of course require more work, but it is something we feel that veterans are entitled to."

"At a later date," Shea concluded, "I will distribute to the news media, information as to the working hours of the Veterans Service Office, which will include night hours as well as Saturday hours, and any other places in the county where application blanks for the bonus may be completed."

Five Appear For Sentence

Five persons appeared in the morning session of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court today on criminal charges. Of these five, three were placed on probation, one was fined and one was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Ronald Thompson appeared with his attorney Robert Huffer after pleading not guilty to an original charge of assault with intent to commit rape. A negotiated plea of guilty was entered in the case to a lesser charge of assault and battery which carries a maximum penalty of $200 fine and six months in the county jail.

Judge William Ammer accepted the plea and warned Thompson of future association with the woman in question in view of the fact that he is a police officer and she is a married woman. The police officer was fined $200 and given 90 days to pay the fine and costs.

Appearing for sentencing after presentence reports had been prepared were Michael Collins, London, and David Brochius. Collins had previously entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering an uninhabited building in the day season. The court reviewed the pre-sentence report and placed him on probation for three years. The man had only one previous conviction, that being contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and had proved himself to be a good probationer.

Brochius had been convicted earlier of breaking and entering a dwelling house in the day season. The court placed him on probation for three years and the defendant agreed to go to the Alvin House, a half way facility in Columbus, for rehabilitation. He also agreed to seek vocational training.

Three years probation was also the sentence for William Gilbert, 216 W. Mound St. Gilbert had been found guilty of grand larceny and a presentence report prepared by the Adult Parole Authority.

Ed Adams was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary for 1-5 years after a conviction of grand larceny.

A Page Of Opinion

Wrong Assumptions

Every once in awhile, one group of people somewhere in the world decides what another group wants. Usually it is sincere and works hard to accomplish what it regards as the other group's objectives, sometimes causing a minor revolution in the process. They frequently completely misunderstand the situation.

Such over-zealous enthusiasm to correct what appears to be ills to our eyes is a trait of the modern American. Influenced by decades of "social consciousness," the average American—public official and private citizen alike—reacts to strange situations and conditions with a fierce determination to make them conform.

Billions of dollars wasted in foreign aid projects provide some of the most tragic examples of misguided philanthropy from one nation to another. The initial concept behind foreign aid, that by insuring economic and military stability of most of the countries still outside the iron and bamboo curtains the United States could insure a strong anti-communist defense, has not held up.

The decline of NATO is proof of this. It is entirely possible that the psychological approach to foreign aid per se created more animosity than friendship.

Aggression Defined

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Aggression, states Webster's, is "a forceful action or procedure (as an unprovoked attack) when intended to dominate or master ... The practice of making attacks or encroachments ... Unprovoked violation by one country of the territorial integrity of another ... Hostile, injurious, or destructive behavior ..."

Old Noah (1758-1843) who came to the above conclusion, as had some countless number of lexicographers before him, must be doing happy nips today, wherever he is. The United Nations has announced that it agrees with him.

It took the UN only 24 years of debate to conclude that if one nation smacks another in the nose for no reason at all, that's aggression. Matter of fact, the League of Nations before it could never agree on what constitutes aggression during its two decades of existence. In the end it was a kind of definition of aggression which broke the League's aching back—its expulsion of Russia from the organization in 1939 for Russia's unprovoked attack on Finland.

The UN's Committee on the Definition of Aggression proceeded with stupefying caution, not wishing to offend some of its most palpably guilty aggressor-members. The finished report, much longer and more involved than old man Webster's crisp outline, naturally contains the blurred "ifs" and fudgy loopholes that are dear to the heart of all framers of UN resolutions. Example:

"No consideration of whatever nature, whether political, economic, military or otherwise, may serve as a justification for aggression ... (But) nothing in this definition could in any way prejudice the right to self-determination, freedom and independence of peoples forcibly deprived of that right, particularly peoples under colonial and racist regimes or other forms of alien domination ..."

One of the earliest drafts of the now completed resolution on aggression was submitted in 1950 by the Soviet Union, which dominates by naked aggression the peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, East Germany, Romania, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, Bulgaria, Cuba, etc.

But it's sure nice to know that the sophisticated UN now has the same understanding of aggression as did Neanderthal Man.

BBC has relaxed its stiff upper lip and will permit the U.S. children's educational TV show, "Electric Company," to be seen on British screens. But it remains adamantly opposed to "Sesame Street," which is directed at a younger audience than "Electric Company" and is now a regular feature in more than 50 countries.

"Electric Company" is expected to serve a neglected portion of British viewers: school dropouts who don't know how to spell and have little command of the Queen's tongue. But nix on the nippers' nostrum, "Sesame Street." The ban will continue. When that was first announced in 1971, BBC's head of children's TV programming, Monica Sims, faulted the enormously popular American show on grounds which she said were shared by many but unnamed U.S. educationalists:

"I question the value of 2-, 3- and 4-year-olds' acquiring knowledge in a passive, uninvolved fashion, and have criticized the program's essentially middle-class attitudes, its lack of reality and its attempt to prepare children for school but not for life. I am particularly worried about the program's authoritarian aims. Right answers are demanded and praised, and a research report refers to the program maker's aim to change children's behavior. This sounds like indoctrination and a dangerous use of television."

However war between the two great English-speaking nations may still be averted.

Occasionally, we reproduce the menu that served the patrons of Delmonico's Restaurant, 494 Pearl Street, New York City, in 1834. It tends to remind the unhappy victims of today's astronomical food prices that they were born about 100 years too late. Here goes:

BILL OF FARE

Cup Tea or Coffee - 1 cent. Bowl Tea or Coffee - 2. Crullers - 1. Soup - 2. Fried or Stewed Liver or Heart - 3. Hash - 3. Half Pie - 2. Beef or Mutton Stew - 4. Corn Beef and Cabbage - 4. Pig's Head and cabbage - 4. Fried Fish - 4. Beef Steak - 4. Pork Chops - 4. Pork and Beans - 4. Liver and Bacon - 5. Roast Beef or Veal - 5. Veal Cutlet - 5. Chicken Steal - 5. Fried Eggs - 5. Hamburger Steak - 10. Roast Chicken - 10. Regular Dinner - 12 Cents.

But who would have wanted to live in 1834 with that man Andrew Jackson in the White House? Dangerous fellow, Jackson. Had a crazy motto: "Let the People Rule." Even recognized the Republic of Texas ...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A money crisis appears to lurk just around the corner, and present indications are that business and a lot of individual Americans are going to walk smack into it. The concussion could be shattering.

Business has big capital spending plans on its book, hoping to enlarge and better equip its production facilities. Individuals, encouraged by renewed activity in homebuilding, have plans to buy long-delayed homes.

Neither may be able to go ahead with plans, however, because the money might not be there. And nobody needs to be told that a spending plan without money or credit is as impossible of accomplishment as filling a lacerated balloon with air.

The demand on the money supply has been growing for months, and not even historically high interest rates have been able to suppress it. In fact, the cost of money itself might be contributing to the situation.

It goes like this: a company plans to increase its spending on plant and equipment by 13 per cent over 1973, which is in fact the rate industry as a whole has set as a goal. But instead of having 13 per cent more money it must subtract for inflation — and for the higher costs of borrowing.

Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, which controls the money spigot, has been growing increasingly disturbed about what he considers to be highly inflationary demands for money. He has declared his intention of restraining that demand.

Otherwise, it is the Fed's contention, individuals and business will spend to such a degree that further inflationary strains are placed upon the economy. Inflation must be controlled, Burns asserts, even though it pains.

Countering his position, some investors and businessmen have hollered that monetary policy alone cannot accept so much of the burden of restraint. They claim that to limit the money supply could destroy business, wreck the housing market and bring about a stock market collapse.

Burns this week stood firm. "We aren't going to sit back and prepare a monetary path to a continuation of rapid inflation," he said. "Let there be no mistaking our determination to do this."

Fry Attacks State Aid To Education

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Charles Fry, 55, a Republican gubernatorial hopeful from Springfield, says aid to education is the second most important issue in Ohio, "aside from integrity in government."

Fry was the lone speaker Monday night at a scheduled debate on education. Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan sent his regrets saying he received the invitation too late to attend.

Former Gov. James A. Rhodes sent word that his previous views on education "are well aware to the people of Ohio."

Fry blasted both men before the meeting of western Hamilton County parent-teacher representatives, sponsored by the Westwood Civic Association.

"I'm not surprised they are not here," said the 12-year member of the Ohio General Assembly. "They both have turned their backs on education once they got the taxes they wanted."

Fry said Rhodes, also a Republican candidate for governor, failed to provide needed funds after the legislature increased the state sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent.

He said Gilligan, "like all incumbent governors seeking reelection," is letting income tax revenues pile up in the state treasury to show a surplus. Fry said that figure should reach $200 million by July.

Fry advocated a state education formula "adopted by this state 40 years ago and now being used by Michigan." The formula disburses money to school districts on the basis of pupil enrollment without regard to programs.

He called the present system ridiculous and blamed the Ohio Education Association for creating the present system of "a political patchwork."

LAFF - A - DAY

"Dad, would you drive Greg home? He's trying to save his gas!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A great deal of confusion seems to exist about the condition popularly called "ptomaine poisoning."

Many people use this term loosely to describe any form of food poisoning.

Actually, ptomaines are poisons that are derived from decaying animal matter. These can be very toxic, and produce the common symptoms typical of all food poisoning.

Technically, food poisoning is an inflammation of the lining of the stomach and the intestines. It is known as "gastroenteritis." This may be caused by immorization in eating, overindulgence in alcohol, allergy to certain foods, or to irritation by an intestinal virus.

Food poisoning can result from spoiled shellfish, inedible mushrooms, food contaminated by insecticides or spoiled by inadequate refrigeration. Custards and dishes prepared with mayonnaise are most vulnerable to poor refrigeration.

Botulism, considered as food poisoning, is a very acute, severe and dangerous infection caused by eating foods that contain the organism Clostridium botulinum. Fortunately, this is a rare type of food poisoning.

The symptoms of ptomaine poisoning and other food poisoning closely resemble each other. The onset is abrupt and is associated with headaches, muscle aches, nausea, diarrhea and abdominal cramps.

When contaminated food is eaten, usually more than one person is affected by this distressing combination of symptoms.

There is a temptation for people to use cathartics, purges and laxatives without proper direction. This simply adds the danger of losing more fluid and complicating the problem.

The best temporary treatment is to try to sip small quantities of cold ginger ale or other carbonated drinks. This will replenish the fluids lost.

Since there are so many varieties of food poisoning and so many possibilities, self-medication is not the sensible way for this condition to be treated. Very often, doctors will ask their patients to try to get a sample of the food that was suspected as the cause of the onset of these symptoms. In this way it is possible, by culture and study, to pinpoint the cause and establish the exact form of treatment.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH ... Great friends should be kept as part-time friends and not used as great-time doctors.

Mid East Peace

By JIM BISHOP

It was a warm night with a timid breeze and a sky full of five-watt bulbs, so we dined on the terrace. My secret girl friend, Mrs. Max Keiser, felt the touch of my fingers under the table and entwined hers with mine. With her free hand, she raised a tot of wine, "To Israel," she said. "Peace."

We raised our glasses. Kelly and Dr. Lester Keiser, and the visitors from Philadelphia, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Newman, drained their glasses. "Wait a minute," I said. "Let's drink to peace for the Arabs." My girl friend, who has passed her 80th birthday in good health, dropped my hand.

The shock on her face was genuine. "To the Arabs?" she said. "Jim, I am surprised at you." I shrugged. "How can Israel have peace," I asked, "unless the Arabs have it?"

It opened a vein of conversation at dinner. How, indeed, can one antagonist attain peace? My girl friend patted my hand on top of the table and drew herself up to her full five feet of indignation. "Kelly," she said, "you can have him back."

My wife and I recapped our conversations with government officials of Israel (three visits). There is a gulf of misunderstanding between what the practical politicians of Israel think of this gallant little nation, and the emotional and sanctifying assessment of the American Jew.

The average American, abetted by a biased press, is certain that Israel has never committed a wrong. Conversely, the Arabs have never had a peaceful impulse.

At private social gatherings with Israeli officials, I get a different impression. They are, I feel, realists. As descendants of a people scourged, defiled and slain for thousands of years, they dread facing the fact that they drove 900,000 Arabs off the face of the new nation.

Many of these live in prison compounds in Jordan. The officials do not like to think that Israel — which sets a high premium on peace — started a war in 1967, and allowed the Egyptians to start one in the past year. Two errors.

The young Sabras, boys and girls who fight to the death, feel bitterly about the factions and fights in the Knesset. "Golda," they would say, "runs the country like Ma and Pa's Deli." Nor does anyone in Israel like to dwell on the fact that 11.6 percent of the people want to leave Israel.

The Sabras are quiet, stubborn, eternally prepared to battle with their backs to their homes within an hour of being called up. The inescapable truth is that 2,750,000 Israelis have held off 39,000,000 Arabs for a quarter of a century.

Sometimes they express a cordial contempt for the American who feels entitled to gratitude because he purchased bonds. The U.S. attitude — and this applies to Gentiles as well as Jews — is that America should support Israel with arms and planes, but that if blood is to be shed, it should be done by Israel.

In the most recent war, young Americans left their parents to hurry to fight for the land of their forebears. They did it with little fanfare and publicity. Some of their parents pledged, not their lives, but their money. Miss Cathy Grossman, reporter for the Miami Herald, found time in the middle of the war to write sympathetically about an Arab family in Jerusalem.

The Young, I am sorry to state, see the issues clearly. One war will follow another, with the U.S. and the Soviet Union standing aloof, prepared to dictate terms to the victors. If American Jews are suspicious of Henry Kissinger, our premier peacemaker, it is only because they fear that he will lean over backwards to be "non-Jewish."

This leads full circle back to the original thesis, that it is dangerous to rationalize the fears of some American Jews. They are impelled to fan the flames of the holocaust at Dachau and Auschwitz to keep alive the terror of persecution and genocide.

The true friend of Israel assesses it as a verdant European enclave flowering among sand dunes. Like Eban, Dayan and Meir, he ponders how much conciliation is required to save face for the Arabs and bring them to desire to live in peace with Israel. How much is enough?

Under the table, Mrs. Max Keiser reached for my hand. She forgot that the table top was glass, and everyone could see. "Yes," she said in the manner of a lady who is making an enormous concession, "yes. If the Arabs have no peace, Israel has no peace. Lester, mine son, please give me another glass."

Flick Named Head Of Program

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—James G. Flick, city finance director, was named Monday to head the city's first family health care program.

Flick was elected chairman of the Board of Health Maintenance plan.

The program will operate out of Good Samaritan Hospital and provide complete health care for individuals and families who pay a regular monthly fee.

President Plans Western Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has decided to expand his trip to the western United States early next month to include a visit to Spokane's Expo '74, sources reported today.

The White House announced Monday that Nixon would address a Republican party gathering in Phoenix, Ariz., on May 3, and sources said today an announcement was expected shortly that he also would appear in Spokane on May 4.

That is the opening date of the world's first environmental exposition sanctioned as a world's fair by the 36-nation bureau of international exhibitions.

New SLA Messages Treated As Real

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The FBI says it "can't take the chance" that the two latest messages purported to be from the Symbionese Liberation Army are not authentic.

The FBI said it will assume the messages are real because they threaten to kill policemen if SLA members are harmed and because the life of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst may still be in danger.

The messages, signed by a "General Pax," do not reflect the usual pattern of the terrorist group. They were received Monday by the Sacramento Bee, and said five California peace officers would be executed for any SLA member killed.

The SLA, a group which authorities believe is multiracial, heavily armed and numbers about 25 young men and women, claims responsibility for the Feb. 4 kidnapping of Miss Hearst.

John Reed, agent in charge of the Sacramento FBI office, said the FBI cannot assume the messages received by the Bee are not the real thing.

"Since the life of the victim is still in jeopardy and the lives of police officers are in jeopardy, we can't take that chance," Reed said.

The messages, one in pencil and the other on a tape, were sent by mail to the Bee in a brown manila package with a Berkeley postmark.

Before arrival of the package, the last communication from the SLA was received April 3. In it, Miss Hearst renounced her family and said she had become an SLA comrade.

Previous communications have included evidence purported to show that the SLA had kidnapped Miss Hearst. But the Monday messages lacked any such evidence. They also lacked the usual SLA signoff, "Death to the Fascist insect that preys upon the life of the people."

CANAL CLEAN-UP — Circleville High School Band Members and director, Gary Dean, assisted picking up dead wood, trash, bottles, cans, etc., in "Project 500" Saturday. The project, twofold in purpose, is to help clean the canal for public fishing with the funds helping defray the expenses of the Circleville High School Tiger Marching Band's trip to Indianapolis. The project will continue Saturday with Canal Road closed to motorists 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Ford Urges Nixon Cooperation

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford says President Nixon might have tried harder to get the story of Watergate out sooner and that he should cooperate as fully as possible to clear it up now.

Ford, in remarks here Monday, called on Nixon to turn over within 48 to 72 hours all relevant material sought by the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment probe.

A committee subpoena for tapes and documents covering 42 Watergate related White House conversations has a 10 a.m. Thursday deadline.

In a question-and-answer session at the annual meeting of The Associated Press, Ford was asked whether he thought Watergate and its coverup could have occurred without his knowledge if he had been president at the time.

"It's pretty hard to put yourself back into the shoes of somebody else in a situation like that," Ford told 1,300 newspaper and broadcast industry leaders. "I do read the papers ... very extensively. I couldn't have been oblivious to some of the things that were going on, that had taken place or transpired.

"It would be my technique if I were in those shoes — which I hope and trust does not take place — to want to find out as quickly as possible," Ford said. "I assume that the President did. In fact, I have good reason to believe that he did."

"Unfortunately," Ford added, "some of the people who should have known obviously did not give him the full story."

"Now whether there should have been a more vigorous prosecution of all the details, that's a matter of judgment," he said. "And in my case, I think I would have tried to nudge some of my employees about as hard as I possibly could."

Ford said Nixon knew nothing in advance about the burglary and bugging of Democratic party headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex during the 1972 presidential campaign.

The Vice President also said he was confident Nixon had not committed any impeachable offense under the Constitution. But he urged Nixon to make every effort to settle the issue once and for all.

"I hope and trust that some time in the next 48 or 72 hours, the White House will cooperate to the maximum in making available to the House Committee on the Judiciary the relevant material that he committee has requested," Ford said.

Ford drew applause from his audience when he said, "I strongly believe that to be the right course of action, and I hope and trust the decision follows that pattern."

However, Ford's use of the word "relevant" when saying what he thought should be turned over follows current White House terminology on the subject, and indicates the possibility that materials which Nixon or his lawyers feel irrelevant or unnecessary to the impeachment inquiry might be withheld.

The White House said Monday that Nixon is still undecided on "the content or form" of his response to the committee's subpoena. Committee chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. has said anything less than full compliance might be considered grounds for impeachment.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Unloads Own Woes

DEAR ABBY: I can't receive a personal reply because my mother has the habit of "accidentally" opening my mail.

I'm a 35-year-old widow. My husband died last year, and I'm back home living with my parents.

I attend church regularly. A month ago, during confession, the priest, who's about my age, suddenly said: "You think you've got trouble-what about me?" Then he started to unload all his problems on me. I felt utterly helpless and ill-equipped to listen to him. I told him I sympathized with him, and then I left. The next time I went to confession, he did the same thing, only this time he got very emotional and broke down and cried.

I really like this priest, and don't want to get him into trouble with the church, but I dream going to confession again. He seems perfectly all right otherwise, but there must be something wrong with him. How can I help him?

FEELING HELPLESS

Oldsters Get Exams Nearly Free

WAUKON, Iowa (AP) — For $1 apiece, some elderly residents of this northeast Iowa farming community may have prolonged their life.

For that paltry sum, more than 200 residents have received complete physical examinations, some of which detected unsuspected ailments.

"So often the doctors and I noticed that a lot of older people are still coming to the hospital in very deplorable physical condition," said the Rev. Arlin Adams, explaining the reason for the low-cost checkups.

"We saw that they had waited too long, and when they came for health care it was too late."

Pastor Adams, a Lutheran and former administrator of the 42-bed, city-owned Veterans Memorial Hospital, helped establish the program in this community of 4,000.

The examinations at the hospital were made possible through "Operation: Health Saving," which combined the town's medical and volunteer resources.

DEAR HELPLESS: You can urge him to see a doctor. Like any other man, a priest can have a nervous breakdown, and it appears that this is what is happening to him.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this gentleman for six years. We both lost our mates, and we seem well suited for each other. He says he wants to marry me EXCEPT he loves his lovely home and garden and will not give it up, but I feel that we both should close the doors on our pasts and start new lives together.

He says I should give him time. How much time should I give him?

ORLANDO

DEAR ORLANDO: How old is he? DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are organic vegetarians, but our best friends aren't. We do many things together but we've never made a point of the fact that we're vegetarians.

They are constantly inviting us over for dinner. They invariably serve meat, and just the smell of meat cooking makes me sick to my stomach. Everything else they serve is either out of a can or from an "add-water" package.

We have quietly endured the meals at their home because we don't want to get them mad at us. How can we turn down their dinner invitations without jeopardizing our friendship? I don't know how many more of their dinners we can take.

DEAR YECCH: You should be able to tell your best friends that you are vegetarians and as such do not eat meat. With the price of meat the way it is they may not be as "mad" at you as you think.

CONFIDENTIAL TO E.M.: "He who cannot forgive others, breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass if he would reach heaven; for every-one has need to be forgiven." (Herbert)

Sunday Supper

Vegetable soup, apple bacon open sandwiches, pound cake, beverage.

Apple Bacon Open Sandwiches

Inspired by Danish cuisine.
6 slices bacon
1 large golden delicious apple, unpeeled and diced (1 and 2-3rds cups)
4 slices dark bread, preferably butter

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat cook the bacon, turning as necessary, until as done as desired; drain on brown paper and keep warm. Pour off all the bacon fat except about 1 tablespoon; or pour off all fat and then wipe skillet clean with paper toweling and add 1 tablespoon butter or margarine. Add apple to skillet; cook over moderate heat, stirring often, until apple is transparent — about 10 minutes. Butter bread and arrange hot apple over each slice; top with bacon. Serve at once. Increase quantities as needed. May be garnished with watercress or tiny lettuce cups filled with grated fresh horse-radish. Makes 2 servings — 2 slices per portion.

DINNER FOR FOUR

Chicken pepitoria, rice, snap beans, tomato salad and caramel custard.

Chicken Pepitoria

It's a Spanish fricassee.
3 tablespoons olive oil
2½-pound broiler-fryer, cut up
1 large onion, finely chopped
½ cup thin strips cooked ham
¼ cup unblanched almonds, finely grated
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tablespoon minced parsley
2 hard-cooked egg yolks, mashed
1 cup clear chicken broth

In a large skillet heat the olive oil and brown chicken in it; remove chicken. Add onion and ham to skillet and cook gently until onion is softened but not brown. Thoroughly mix together the remaining ingredients; add to skillet with chicken. Simmer, covered, until chicken is tender — 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings. (To prepare the almonds use a hand-operated rotary cone-type nut grater or an electric blender.)

Wonderful topping for apple pie: chill an 8-ounce container of heavy cream mixed with ¼ cup packed light brown sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla for an hour; beat until stiff.

Metzenbaum Bares Income Tax Returns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, today released his federal income tax returns dating back to 1960, showing he paid $725,004 in federal taxes on an adjusted gross income of $3,067,753 in the 14-year period.

Metzenbaum's state and local tax payments amounted to an additional $169,304, the returns showed.

Metzenbaum made the disclosure at a news conference.

His primary opponent for the Democratic nomination, former astronaut John Glenn, had been attacking him for refusing to disclose more than his 1973 taxes.

"Today's disclosure adds nothing to a dialogue on the issues of the campaign," Metzenbaum said. "But it has taken away John Glenn's excuse for not facing me on the issues."

Metzenbaum said he had delivered to Glenn's Columbus campaign headquarters a letter repeating an earlier challenge head-to-head debates in Columbus, Dayton and Toledo.

Glenn several weeks ago released to newsmen tax returns back to 1965.

"Col. Glenn finally agreed to meet me in Cincinnati and Cleveland only when he realized I was prepared to debate an empty chair. I have named the places the times for these three additional debates," Metzenbaum said.

Metzenbaum claimed Glenn's campaign office had been pouring out "inveectives, slurs and scurrilous literature that is regrettable."

"I have been attempting to talk about concerns of the people of Ohio," Metzenbaum said.

The Metzenbaums did not pay any Federal income tax on an adjusted gross income of $241,742.29 in 1969, returns showed.

He actually received a refund of $7,050 for that year.

He earlier had released this information in another form, saying he couldn't give out the specific tax forms because they included information about other individuals involved in his business enterprises.

Meanwhile, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum and his opponent for the Democratic Senate nomination, John Glenn, continued to exchange charges about their finances.

Metzenbaum's campaign manager, James Schiller, accused Glenn in Cleveland of failing to list a $25,000 loan to his own campaign as part of his net worth.

Schiller acknowledged, at the same time, that the secretary of the U.S. Senate had reported three "apparent violations" of the Federal Election Campaign Act by Metzenbaum.

William R. White, Glenn's finance director, denied the charge of financial falsification.

White said when Glenn's personal income statement, listing his net worth as $767,800, it was apparent the loan, made in three installments to the Citizens for Glenn Committee, "in all probability would never be repaid."

The loan, therefore, was written off as a contribution, White said.

Metzenbaum's campaign manager described the alleged election law violations as "trivial allegations to make political hay out of the senator's good faith and full disclosure."

Glenn earlier had alleged seven violations by Metzenbaum.

Schiller said the secretary of the Senate, Francis R. Valeo, reported Metzenbaum apparently filed late financial statements on at least three occasions.

Schiller charged Glenn also missed a filing deadline. He said the Glenn committee did not register contributions of about $18,000 with the secretary of state within the required 10-day period last fall.

"This is precisely the trivia that the Glenn campaign dressed up into a formal complaint against Sen. Metzenbaum in its filing with the secretary of the Senate," Schiller said.

Gilligan, who appointed Metzenbaum to the Senate seat vacated by U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, was asked about the Metzenbaum-Glenn race Tuesday after he signed into law a bill regulating campaign financing.

Gilligan declined to comment on the type of campaign the two Senate hopefuls were running, but said he disagreed with Metzenbaum's criticism of Glenn for allegedly taking contributions from Republicans.

The governor said he thinks a person has the right to contribute to a candidate he likes regardless of party affiliation.

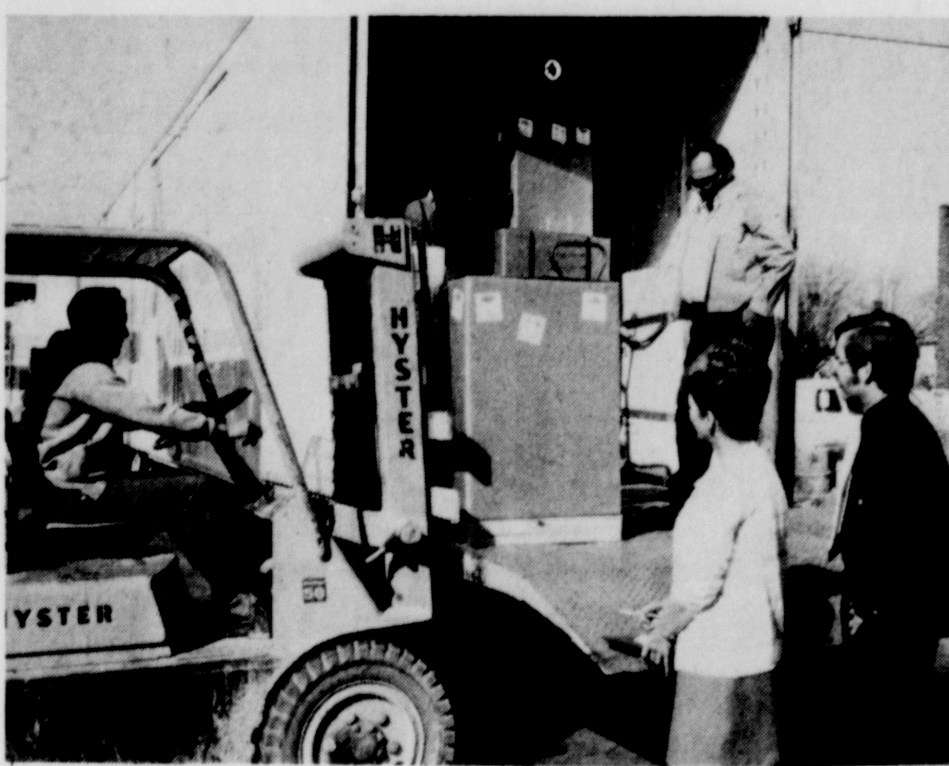

In other political activity around the state:

—Henry W. Eckhart, a Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, said public utilities in the state are not paying their share of the federal corporate income tax and "do not pay any part of Ohio's corporate income tax."

Eckhart, former chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, told newsmen in Columbus 13 major utilities paid 1972 federal income taxes amounting to 22.2 per cent, while recently approved rate increases were based on the assumption taxes that year were 48 per cent of income.

—State Sen. Tanley J. Aronoff, Republican candidate for attorney general, said the "albatross of Watergate has forced the pendulum of the balance of power to swing to favor the left" and threaten the nation's two-party system.

—Roger Tracy, a Republican candidate for state auditor, questioned authorization by Democratic incumbent Joseph Ferguson of more than $14,000 spent for trees, flowers and other personal services at the governor's mansion last year.

Muny Court's Action Reversed

The Fourth District Court of Appeals reversed a decision made by the Circleville Municipal Court on a driver's license suspension.

Presiding Judge Earl Stephenson and Justice Homer Abele concurred that a prejudicial error intervened in the case of Dale E. Pettibone vs The State of Ohio, Bureau of Motor Vehicles. The Appeals Court contended that the Municipal Court had no authority to give limited driving rights to the petitioner to drive to and from work.

The case will be returned to the Municipal Court for further proceedings in keeping with the Court of Appeal's decision.

Reserve Mining Won't Guarantee On-Land Disposal

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A corporate spokesman has declined to guarantee that Reserve Mining Co. will quit dumping taconite tailings into Lake Superior if no health hazard exists.

U.S. District Judge Miles Lord sought assurance Tuesday that officials of Reserve's parent firms are willing to build an on-land disposal system.

Lord last weekend ordered Reserve to shut down its Silver Bay, Minn., processing plant until such a disposal system is built. But the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals stayed that order until at least May 15, and Reserve resumed production Tuesday.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), joined by several states and environmental organizations, seeks to stop Reserve from discharging up to 67,000 tons of tailings into the lake daily. Plaintiffs contend asbestos fibers discharged by water and smoke stacks are a menace to health at North Shore communities.

Reserve is operated by Armco and Republic Steel corporations, and Armco President William Verity testified Tuesday about possible on-land disposal methods. He estimated it would take some $172 million to make the switch, which he claims would be economically unfeasible.

Lord wanted to know "whether your position was that you'd close down the mine rather than try to salvage the investment in a 'wash out' situation" that might be caused by the expense of on-land disposal.

"We have never suggested closing the mine," said Verity.

The judge asked whether, if the appeals court finds there is no health hazard, Reserve would continue discharging into the lake.

Verity said, "I would hope if there is no hazard to health we could work with whatever agencies there are to get a satisfactory solution for all concerned."

The Armco official agreed with Lord it might mean negotiating some more with Grant Merritt, executive director of the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency. But Lord said Merritt, a leader in the battle against Reserve, might find himself up against a stonewall.

Merritt Tuesday criticized the circuit court ruling, calling it a "very casual attitude of business as usual" in the face of Lord's finding that a substantial public health menace existed.

"Apparently the three-judge panel felt that short-term economics and continued profits for these ... arrogant corporations outweigh long-range concerns for human life and public health, Merritt said. He called it only a temporary setback.

Work Under Way On Ocean Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Work was under way again on one of the three main boilers of the Queen Elizabeth 2 following the arrival of the luxury liner from New York 24 hours late.

The 65,000-ton flagship of the British merchant fleet broke down April 1 with boiler trouble off Bermuda and had to be towed into Nassau after a rescue liner took its passengers to Bermuda.

The Cunard Line said the QE2 made the crossing on two boilers at 24 knots instead of its normal 30 knots. The ship is scheduled to leave Thursday for a 12-day Mediterranean cruise.

Whooping Cough Hits Cincy Area

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A whooping cough epidemic is sweeping through the Cincinnati area, according to Dr. William Elsea, city health commissioner.

Almost 40 cases of the contagious disease have been reported so far this year, compared to three to five cases normally recorded during the same period in past years, he said.

Elsea noted 36 of the cases have occurred since March 1, including 15 medical personnel at Children's and General Hospitals.

Both hospitals are testing newborn infants for bacterial infection, he said.

Elsea said symptoms range from a persistent cough, runny nose, and fever and antibiotics are needed to treat the disease.

Elsea pointed out the term "epidemic" describes a greatly increased caseload.

Armco Corp. Mum On Federal Charge

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Armco Steel Corp. declined comment Tuesday on an indictment returned against the company by a federal grand jury in New Orleans for alleged antitrust violations.

Officials of the Middletown-based firm, one of the nation's three major steel producers, said they would reserve response until they could study the indictment.

The indictment accuses Armco and four smaller firms of antitrust violations in connection with the sale of millions of dollars worth of reinforcing steel bars in Louisiana.

It says they participated in an illegal conspiracy from mid-1969 until late 1972 to allocate among themselves construction contracts requiring use of the steel bars.

Named as defendants were Armco and its former assistant sales manager for the Southwest, Harry H. Gray; the Ceco Corp. of Chicago and its district manager for the New Orleans region, Robert F. Krejcu; the H.K. Porter Co., Inc., of Pittsburgh and its steel division sales manager, Charles F. Jones; Laclede Steel Co. of St. Louis and its New Orleans district manager, John W. Bean, and Southern Industrial Steel Corp. of New Orleans and its president, A.A. Boudousquie Jr.

The defendants were charged with agreeing among themselves on which companies would submit the low bid for a particular contract and which would refrain from bidding or would submit higher bids to insure that the designated company won the contract.

The government charged the alleged conspiracy affected the sale of $6 million in steel bars in 1972 alone.

The indictment was similar to federal charges brought against Armco and the other two major steel companies in connection with the sale of reinforcing steel bars in Texas.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and 14 smaller firms, including Ceco, Laclede and Gray, were indicted along with Armco in the Texas case.

The steel bars are used to reinforce concrete in the construction of highways, bridges, buildings and other structures.

Mansfield Joins Supporters Of Anti-Inflation Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has joined a growing number of Congress members supporting a substantial tax cut to help Americans hard hit by spiralling inflation.

However, Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board said Monday he opposes a tax cut. Rather, the board plans to use money and interest policies to fight inflation, even though such policies could hurt the home building industry, Burns said.

Mansfield, noting increasing support for a tax cut among legislators and economists, said, "This is something we can do for the average working stiff who's carrying the load in this country."

Inflation is running at a rate of more than 10 per cent annually, according to government statistics.

Mansfield said the revenue lost through a tax cut could be made up by closing tax loopholes and by reducing spending for defense, foreign aid and space.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the acting Republican leader, told newsmen he does not think there is going to be a tax cut this year. But he added that one might be justified if necessary to head off a recession.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., a senior member of the Senate Finance Committee, said Congress ought to be talking about balancing the budget instead of cutting taxes.

"Let's deal with the cause of inflation and not fool the American people with talk about a tax cut," Curtis said.

Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., also have urged a tax reduction.

In the House, Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the powerful Ways and Means Committee have indicated they would support such a move unless there is a marked upturn in the economy soon.

Burns did not elaborate on his opposition to a tax cut.

However, administration spokesmen have said that a tax reduction would be inflationary and would not have any immediate effect on the economy.

Vegetables To Be Fewer This Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers can expect fewer fresh vegetables on store counters this spring, but the Agriculture Department says no serious shortages are anticipated except for potatoes.

Producers of major fresh market vegetables planted 4 per cent fewer acres this spring, the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Monday.

Production may be down even more sharply, perhaps 5 per cent below a year ago, officials said.

"Spring melon acreage is also down slightly and is sharply less than 1972," the report said.

But officials added that "fresh vegetable imports, mainly from Mexico, have been running very close to the record" set last year.

The report said large supplies of onions are expected this spring, a sharp turnaround from a year ago when smaller output sent onion prices soaring.

Potatoes, however, will continue to be costly in the weeks ahead.

Officials said potato stockpiles on April 1 were down 9 per cent from a year earlier.

KIWANIS SPEAKER—Mrs. Marge Grossman, center, Staff member of the North Branch YMCA, Columbus, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting, Monday. The program topic was Family Focus, which Mrs. Grossman elaborated on communication within the family through transactional analysis. She was introduced by program chairman, Doyle Painter, left. Circleville YMCA director, Harold Hewitt, right, was present for the meeting.

TV Fires Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New Jersey man whose family was killed in a house fire urged the government today to move with "all deliberate speed" to protect others from television sets that can burn, fatally shock people or explode.

Peter B. Young, who was critically burned in a blaze that claimed his wife, 20-month-old daughter and mother-in-law, was the lead-off witness at a two-day public hearing before the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

He said it "seems quite likely" to him that a faulty TV set started the fire in his Summit home on the night of Jan. 1, 1973, as well as two succeeding fires in neighboring Roseland and North Caldwell that took 11 more lives.

Young said the commission must develop mandatory federal safety standards for the manufacture of new TV sets and somehow make safe the 45 million sets already in use.

He suggested that the industry be required to place a simple shut-off switch on the cords of old sets across the country and broadcast public warnings.

Until the government acts, he said in prepared testimony, "I will stand by my advice to citizens and friends to pull the plug, especially at bedtime, or even any time when the set is not in use."

Zenith and RCA, manufacturers of the sets Young associated with the New Jersey fires, have denied that their products caused the blazes.

Henley Trial Slated July 1 In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Elmer Wayne Henley will go on trial here July 1 in the deaths of six of the 27 teen-aged victims of the Texas mass murder case.

District Court Judge Preston Dial ordered prosecution and defense attorneys to be ready to start jury selection on July 1 and to begin the presentation of testimony on July 8.

The teen-agers were killed in what the state describes as a homosexual torture ring.

In a 20-minute session on Monday, Dial also disposed of nine defense motions. He granted only one.

He refused to move the trial out of San Antonio because of publicity here — the same reason Henley's trial was transferred from Houston. Instead, he said he would try to pick a jury and grant the change of venue only if he were unable to find 12 unprejudiced persons to serve on it.

He also refused to delay the trial because of publicity.

He granted defense lawyer Will Gray's motion to question individually all potential jurors who had heard or read about the case.

No trial date has been set for David Owen Brooks, 19, who is charged with four murders in the case.

The state claims Henley and Brooks procured other teenaged males for parties given by Dean A. Corll, 33, which ended in homosexual rape and torture.

The bodies of 27 victims were found buried at various locations in and around Houston last August.

Henley shot Corll to death after a sex and drug party at Corll's home in the Houston suburb of Pasadena on Aug. 8. The shooting was subsequently ruled self-defense.

Come Up And See Me Some Time.

Nader Blasts Armco, Republic

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Republic and Armco Steel corporations are "guilty of criminal negligence" in their operation of the Reserve Mining Co. taconite processing plant at Silver Bay, Minn., consumer advocate Ralph Nader charged Tuesday.

Nader spoke at a Minneapolis news conference three days after U.S. District Judge Miles Lord ordered Reserve to stop its waste discharge into Lake Superior and the air.

The taconite plant resumed operation Tuesday under a temporary stay of Lord's order granted by a panel of the 8th U.S. District Court of Appeals.

"The courts should appoint a public trusteeship to manage the company until it can treat its workers and its neighbors with elemental concern," Nader said.

In his ruling, Lord agreed with the Justice Department that Reserve is polluting Lake Superior with its discharge of waste rock and that its water and air discharges contain asbestos fibers which represent a potential health hazard to North Shore residents.

"For years they refused to analyze the nature of their dumpings into Lake Superior," Nader said of Armco and Republic. "And even after it the presence of asbestos was pointed out to them, they fought to delay, obfuscate and cover it up."

The companies have contended that the lake discharge does not constitute a health hazard.

Nader said Armco and Republic have the financial and technological means to correct environmental damage caused by the discharge but they want the small taxpayer to bail them out.

Nader said the Steelworkers Union has not tried to impress upon the workers the health threat caused by asbestos exposure and that leaves only their public representatives to protect them.

Both Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Walter F. Mondale "have seriously fallen down on the job here," Nader said.

Nader said Reserve workers should get back-pay reparations for being subjected to a "serious environmental hazard" without their knowledge. The back pay, coupled with unemployment compensation, would establish security for the workers without even considering alternative employment, he added.

Nader was in Minneapolis to address a conference on volunteerism.

Mail Embargoed Into Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delivery of all U.S. mail to Canada has been halted because of a spreading strike by Canadian postal workers.

The U.S. Postal Service announced the embargo Monday, saying it was imposed at the request of the Canadian government.

U.S. mail destined for the Canadian province of Quebec was embargoed last Wednesday, at Canada's request, and U.S. postal officials have been withholding mail intended for Toronto since Friday.

A limited embargo on perishable mail for Quebec's Montreal district began on April 12 with the walkout of Canadian postal employees.

Tornado Victims Get Mobile Homes

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Tornado victims in the suburban Mack area were scheduled to begin receiving mobile homes today.

Dick Plageman, acting on behalf of the manufacturer and recipients, said the privately contracted trailers are the first of 17, which will be delivered in shipments of three.

PTO News

Pickaway Twp.

A special recognition of teachers and election of officers highlighted the April meeting of the Pickaway Parent Teacher Organization. The auditorium was decorated with spring colors of streamers and carnations. Teachers honored were Mae Huggins, Nancy Dye, Donna Hansford, Betty Melton, Donna Gallagher, Louise Stuckey, Drema Scott, Patricia Falk, Susan Spangler, Phyllis Lambert, Nancy Berry, Virginia Courtright, Opal Sims, and Al Gabriel, principal. Student escorts for the teachers were John Chaffin, Steve Congrove, Brad Smith, Harold Sheets, Kevin Withers, Richard Mayberry, Brian Smith, Todd Pontius, Richard Miller, Doug Hemming, Marty Hall, Gene Uhl, Jamie Arnold and Billy Archer. Sheila Kamler and Judy Little were in charge of decorations.

Gabriel offered special thanks and praise to the teachers and students.

Guests for the meeting were Roger Hobbie and Mrs. Virginia Wood, Logan Elm board of education members. Hobbie outlined the need for the upcoming school operating levy.

The second grade students offered devotions and also won the roll call.

Officers for next year are Mrs. Mary Mears, president; Mr. James Eads, vice president; Mrs. Tacie Dumm, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Harris treasurers; and Mrs. Judy Pontius, new reporter.

There will be no meeting in May. Instead of having a banquet for six graders, the students decided to have a Fun Day during school hours with a hamburger and hot dog cookout. Meats will be provided by the PTO.

Mrs. Shirley Lutz, outgoing president, extended thanks to all members for their help during her two-year term.

Group Attends Convention

The Southeastern Ohio Missionary Convention was held April 20 at Mt. Vernon, with guest speaker Luz Gonzales from Mexico.

Officers installed were: Martha Mathison, vice president; Maria Mitchell, secretary; Alice Laython, treasurer; Sharon Stewart, spiritual life director; and Margaret Mitchell, missionary education director.

Attending from the Laurelville Church of God were: Rev. Lynn Summers, Shirley Moreno, Alma Radabaugh, Rosemary Picklesimer, Janice Hardman, Josephine Hardman, Vonna Mocabee, Margie Ebert, Bertha Wiggins, Thelma Johnston, Judy Clifton and Ruth Reid.

Solons Divided On Tax Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Government Operations Committee says a survey shows members of Congress are "almost evenly divided on the question of whether too much or too little use is being made of general revenue sharing."

The committee reported Sunday on the results of a survey it conducted through confidential responses from 208 of the 535 members of Congress.

"Democrats, on the whole, felt there is too heavy reliance on general revenue sharing while Republicans felt there is too little," the panel said.

It said 51 per cent of those responding considered tax reduction by recipient governments a desirable use of revenue sharing money, while 35 per cent—but a majority of the Democrats—called it undesirable.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, PHONE 986-3481

Well, I will say one thing, when the Drummond family gets in a party mood they really swing. Tuesday evening they honored their exchange student foster daughter Martha Marquez as we have written before. Then on Friday night the doors were opened wide in welcome for friends and classmates of Sandee to honor her on that all important entry into the teen age world. Thirteen candles on the birthday cake — is there any other thrill comparable to that of becoming a teenager for the very first time?

Making the scene for a really neat and tuf time were Teresa "T-Bird" Graffis, Kathy Schleich, Diane Noble, Susie Welsh, Robyn Bigam, Roxanne Francis, J. B. Dick, Shirley Thompson, Cathy Evans, Crystal Metzger, Vicki Cottrell, Lori Hulse, Jeff Mowery, H. L. Gibson, Darren Metzger, Faith Ann Picklesimer, Larry List, Jeff Dotson, Mark List, Mark Henson, Lisa Jordan, Susan Drummond, Stacy Hawkins, J. R. Hamman, Kenny Smith, Randy Jensen, Ernie Steiner, Billy Keller, Cindy Smith, Shawn McPherson, Keith Kern, Ted Everman, Dan Schleich and George Kern.

Following the party a number of the young people participated in the all night retreat held at the Williamsport United Methodist Church.

Little soon-to-be six-years-old Joy Lynn Drummond was banished to the home of grandparents Doyen and Kathleen Bode of Adelphi while big sister had her birthday celebration.

Amy Easterday was the Good Friday overnight guest of her close friend Becky Stonerock for which I forgot to mention last week and have been in the dog house ever since so maybe this will get me out. Becky is the comely daughter of Gene and Vivian Stonerock.

Fannie Bidwell remains a patient at Riverside Hospital where she has been for some time. Cards of cheer and good wishes would be most welcome. Let us all get one in the mail pronto.

Paper Drive

Last reminder about the paper drive being done by local Cub Scout Pack No. 179 Saturday. It is requested that newspapers be bundled separately from magazines. Pick up will be between the hours of 12 noon and 4 p.m. Place your magazines and newspapers at the curb or if you prefer an earlier pick up you need only call Suzi Bivens (986-6675); Marcia Horch (986-6472); or Jeanine Hamman (986-5732) and arrangements will be gladly made to suit your convenience.

Cancer Crusade

The village cancer crusade drive provided $127.42 which was quite good for our community and each contributor has our grateful thanks. The young ladies canvassing the town have our everlasting gratitude for a job well done. Doing their thing for mankind were Pamela Cook, Susan Greene, Cherie Cochenour, Debbie Riggsby, Faith Ann Picklesimer, Shana Wills, Vicki Thompson, Charmie Betts, Amy Easterday, Shirley Thompson and Maria Martha Arguello.

Fish Fry

The annual fish fry sponsored by the Williamsport Little League baseball program will be held Saturday, May 4 at the American Legion Hall. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until all the fish are consumed. A la carte orders as well as a complete meal can be purchased. With a complete meal beverage and dessert will be included.

It's a sure sign of approaching summer on our corner because Sunday evening Harry and Emma Puffinbarger returned home from spending the winter down Florida way. Haines City is their usual hangout. "Booge" Puffinbarger (he is a younger Harry) flew down one day last week and drove our neighbors back home since Harry, Sr. has been "laid up" for several weeks with a meany case of arthritis. Enroute to Ohio land they stopped off at Macon, Georgia for a bit of a visit with those sweethearts Phoebe (Mrs. Charles) Smiley and her daughter Ruth (Mrs. Charles) Shippe. They report that both are doing fine and in good health.

John Hooks and company had a full house at their euchre enterprise week ago Friday night. David Schleich played it real cool this time and took home the bacon (and don't ask what his score was — I'll never tell). The next big night will be this Friday (April 26) still at the American Legion Hall. Come on out and be a part of a fun evening.

Little pre-schooler Sandra Phillips from up around Paulding County way has been keeping the days interesting for grandma and grandpa Crosby. Grandpa is Rev. Richard Crosby who delivers the soul searching, down to earth sermons each Sunday morning at the Williamsport United Methodist Church.

Another good place to be this Friday evening is over in Logan Elm country and see the class play. The last one they put on over there a couple of months ago was superiffic. We really enjoyed it and feel certain this one will be every bit as good.

Be with you again next week, the good Lord willin'. Take care. Think About: Temptation is an irresistible force at work on a moveable body. (H. L. Mencken)

Bodies Recovered In Indonesia

DENPASAR, Indonesia (AP) — Rescue teams today were collecting the remains of the 107 victims who died aboard the Pan American 707 jet that crashed Monday night into a jungled mountain on the island of Bali.

Twenty-eight Americans were among the dead. There were no survivors.

Officials said the search teams found the plane broken in three main parts, lying in a deep ravine on 3,900-foot Mt. Mesehe.

The bodies were being brought down the mountain for transfer by helicopter or car to Denpasar, the capital of Bali, 36 miles to the southeast.

Recovery teams reached the crash scene Tuesday after the Indonesian army cut a trail and made a clearing for the helicopters to land.

The bodies of the 96 passengers and 11 crew members were to be taken to a Denpasar hospital before being handed over to the various foreign embassies.

Relatives of some of the 29 Japanese killed in the crash were flying to Bali today.

The government sent a team of experts to Bali to investigate the cause of the crash, which was the worst in Indonesia's history. The last message from the plane said it was flying at 12,000 feet preparatory to landing on Bali, and there was no indication of any difficulty, the air controller at Denpasar reported.

Officials were unable to explain why the plane was making its final approach from the northwest rather than from the west, the normal route over the sea.

The flight was en route from Hong Kong to Bali and Sydney, Australia. From Sydney it was to have gone on to Honolulu and Los Angeles.

Novice Receives Monthly Alimony

CHICAGO (AP) — James A. Lane's ex-wife now lives in a convent in Milwaukee and is known as Sister Mary.

But Lane, a suburban insurance salesman, must keep paying her $250 a month alimony, Circuit Court Judge Robert L. Hunter ruled Monday.

Hunter said Lane, 47, cannot halt the payments until Sister Mary, 48, a Dominican novice, has taken her final vows as a Catholic nun.

Lane, who says he makes $21,000 a year, told Hunter he could not continue paying his bills and the alimony were it not for the $7,400 salary of his new wife and $20 a week room and board payments from a 20-year-old son.

Kissinger Sets Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger leaves Sunday for the Middle East to try to mesh differing Israeli and Syrian suggestions for disengagement in the Golan Heights area.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan brought Kissinger a plan on March 30 and then Hikmat Shebabi, the Syrian intelligence chief, brought a counter offer earlier this month.

Any compromise would have both sides giving up more than they initially intended. But diplomatic observers are convinced that Kissinger would not resume his "shuttle diplomacy" without expectation of success.

Sources said Kissinger evidently expects to persuade Israel to yield some part of its 1967 six-day war gains in exchange for a stationing of United Nations forces as a buffer between opposing forces in the Golan Heights.

Kissinger will stop first in Geneva to confer with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, with whom he has kept in touch while involved in the initial diplomatic moves.

President Asks $2.340 Billion Indochina Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration will ask Congress to authorize more than $2.340 billion in military and economic aid for Indochina in the 1975 fiscal year beginning July 1, according to sources.

The assistance program will include an estimated $1.650 billion for Vietnam, $551 million for Cambodia and $143 million for Laos, the sources said. At the same time, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said that Congress wants a long-range administration plan for aid to South Vietnam that would include a timetable for phasing out U.S. assistance.

A Humphrey amendment proposing this was adopted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as an amendment to the State Department appropriation bill.

Cambodian Unit Nearing End Of Resistance

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Khmer Rouge attacks were intensifying against the government force of about 2,500 men trapped at Longvek, 25 miles north of Phnom Penh, Cambodian army sources reported.

The sources said the garrison's ammunition was running out and the situation was critical.

"If supplies do not come soon, the garrison is going to fall," said a wounded survivor in Phnom Penh.

American and Cambodian planes were dropping supplies to the camp, and government helicopters were evacuating the wounded under the fire of the insurgents. But officials have said there is no way to rescue the bulk of the force from the Khmer Rouge, who control the territory for 10 miles or more on all sides of Longvek.

Homestead Money Distributed

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson reports the distribution of $736,265.56 to 12 counties as their first half 1973 reimbursements for granting homestead exemptions to elderly homeowners.

Pickaway County will receive $35,645.11 of that total.

A total of $14,725.30 was also distributed to the counties to cover the costs of administering the homestead exemption program.

Gradison Seeks Office 3rd Time

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Republican Willis D. Gradison already has spent $155,000 in two Congressional elections in 1974 to promote his candidacy.

Now, he's in a third, less than two months from the last, and this time he won't spend a dime despite running against two opponents.

"Frankly, we feel if Republican

Court Studies Zebra Hunt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal court today tackles the issue of the city police department's stop-and-search policy in the hunt for one or more black killers believed to have randomly slain 12 whites.

Two lawsuits have been filed to halt the searches being carried out in Operation Zebra, the code name of the case derived from the "Z" radio channel used by police.

The first, filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asks U.S. District Judge Alfonso Zirpoli to issue an injunction halting the searches.

The second, filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, asks the court to rule the stop-and-search tactic unconstitutional.

The city has been ordered to show cause why it shouldn't be prohibited from conducting the searches and was expected to defend its policy in court today.

Meanwhile, a special detachment of 30 plain-clothed black officers was sent into the streets to ferret out clues in the Zebra case.

Richard Burton Battles Illness

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor Richard Burton is responding well to treatment for influenzal bronchitis and will be released from St. John's Hospital within the next two days, a spokesman for him says.

The British actor was hospitalized after completing filming of "The Klansman" in Northern California.

The spokesman said Burton's actress-wife, Elizabeth Taylor, has been vacationing in Hawaii with her family and plans to return to the mainland for a reunion with her husband early next week.

Blaze Destroys Bowling Alley

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Fire swept the K-D Lanes, a bowling establishment on South Main Street, early today, with the damage estimated at $150,000 by Fire Chief William Van Arsdale.

The chief said the cause of the fire was not determined.

No one was in the building when the fire broke out about 1 a.m.

Actress, Husband Visit In Hanoi

TOKYO (AP) — Actress Jane Fonda and her husband, activist Tom Hayden, were received in Hanoi by North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong, the North Vietnamese news agency reports.

The agency said Miss Fonda and her husband expressed "their resolve to support the Vietnamese people in their struggle ... for peace in Vietnam."

Miss Fonda caused a controversy in July 1972 when she visited Hanoi and reportedly made antiwar broadcasts over Radio Hanoi to soldiers in Vietnam.

voters don't know where we stand by now, they're not going to. There is nothing to change before the primary," Gradison said.

"I'm hoping, to paraphrase the old song, 'Will they love me in May like they did in March?'"

Gradison, a former city mayor, was defeated by Democrat Thomas Luken, also a past city father, in a special Congressional election in Ohio's traditionally Republican 1st District in early March.

Before that, Gradison fought a primary battle to obtain the GOP nomination. Now he's in another primary against conservative William Flax, an earlier opponent, and William H. McKinney, a former Norwood city auditor who was disqualified in the earlier primary for faulty petitions.

Luken, who went to Washington to fill William J. Keating's seat, is unopposed in the Democratic primary.

Gradison out-poled Flax 7,837 to 5,015, in the special GOP primary in February, marked by a small voter turnout. Luken won the special referendum, 55,171 to 51,057, with Republican-leaning independents bending toward the Democrat in the Watergate-tinged vote.

"I'm making personal visits to places I didn't do very well," Gradison said.

Flax is spending money. Exposure gives Gradison the lead, Flax explains. So, he said he's paid $16,000 for television and radio commercials this time, twice the amount he spent in February.

"Realistically," Flax said, "a defeat of Gradison would not really be an upset."

Flax, who sought election three times and lost each at the primary, depends on a large voter turnout in order to win.

Gradison is concentrating his efforts at Luken this fall.

"We've got to start raising money for that. But I'm sure it won't be as much as the special election, at least I don't think it will," Gradison said.

From Washington, Luken looks back through untroubled eyes at the district, a cross section of America which has elected Democrats three times to Congress this century.

"I know from city elections that once I became an incumbent, I was able to get a share of the Republican vote. I expect to work on that."

Unioto Wins Scramble Tourney At Lansdowne

Unioto won the first annual Logan Elm Invitational Scramble Golf Tournament Tuesday held at Upper Lansdowne.

The Shermans shot a 33 while Logan Elm beat Nelsonville-York out for second place in a three-hole sudden death playoff.

Teams carding 36 were New Albany, Fairfield Union and Bloom Carroll. Berne Union shot 37. New Albany's second unit shot 39, Nelsonville-York's second unit 40, Amanda Clearcreek 40, Adena 40, Logan Elm's second unit 41 and Huntington 43.

The course was in excellent shape for the match LE golf coach Harry Hoffer reported, crediting owner Don Collins with a fine job of grooming for the event.

The tournament was such a success that Hoffer plans to sponsor an 18-hole event under a similar format in the fall. Of the 16 teams that were originally invited, 13 showed up in spite of the cold weather and the fact that it had been twice rained out.

The Logan Elm team birdied the last hole to tie Nelsonville-York for second. On the green in two on the par 5 ninth hole, Marty Fullen sank what could have been an eagle putt. However, he accidentally touched the ball and moved it a fraction of an inch while addressing the ball. The infraction was noted by one of the coaches monitoring the match and the accidental touch was ruled a putting stroke after a debate of about 20 minutes among the coaches.

On the third hole of the playoff, Steve Marshall sank a 6-foot birdie putt for the win.

Members of the Logan Elm runner-up team were Marshall, Fullen, Dave Dean and Scott Marshall. Members of Logan Elm's second unit were Wayne Linthicum, Dave Anderson, A. J. Kamler and Keith James.

Logan Elm has a 6-1 season record and is 2-0 in the Mid State. Thursday the Braves play Amanda-Clearcreek at Upper Lansdowne in Mid State action.

Braves Scalp Indians

The Logan Elm Braves scalped Canal Winchester Indians 2-1 Tuesday to boost their Mid State League record to five wins and one loss and their overall mark to seven wins in nine starts.

Canal Winchester jumped out to a 1-0 first inning lead on a pair of singles and a couple of errors by the Braves. LE tied the game in the top of the fifth when Ron Stevens walked, moved to second on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Greg Justus.

The winning run came in the top of the seventh. With one out, Rob Black doubled over the center fielder's head, moved to third on a single by Stevens and scored on a fielder's choice, the credit for the run batted in going to Randy Pontius.

The Braves had six hits. Greg Justus hit two singles, Mark Justus a single and a triple, Black a double and Stevens a single.

Steve Rawlins was the winning pitcher. He walked five, struckout four and scattered four hits. The losing pitcher was Neil Seymour.

Thursday the Braves host Fairfield Union (12-4) in Mid State League action.

Circleville, Bexley Golf Teams Tie

Circleville and Bexley golf teams tied with identical 162 scores Tuesday at Pickaway Country Club.

The medalist for the day was Jeff Spires with a 37. Terry Spellacy carded 40, Jeff Bohenko 42, Mike Currie 43 and Jim England 46 for Circleville.

T. Clements shot a 38 for the visitors. Other scores were a 40 by J. Bringardner, 42's by P. Theibert and G. Spencer and 49 by D. Rhinehart.

The CHS golfers travel to London Country Club today to play against Madison Plains.

Favor Celtics Over Knicks In Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, smelling championship money as in their glory years in the 1960s, are favored to defeat the New York Knicks and wrap up their playoff series tonight at the Garden.

With a 3-1 advantage in the best-of-7 series, the Celtics already are looking ahead to a showdown with the Milwaukee Bucks for the National Basketball Association title.

However, Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn guardedly warned his charges against looking beyond the Knicks, noting: "We still have to win one more in their series."

The Knicks were put on the brink of elimination in a 98-91 loss in the fourth game in New York Sunday. Things don't look much brighter for them, although the record shows that the visiting team has won the last three games in the Eastern Division final playoff.

New York is faced with a "must win" situation — for three games in a row. And no one in the game thinks the Knicks can win three in a row from Boston. The Celtics won five of seven regular season encounters before taking command in the playoffs.

"We know what we have to do," New York super star Walt Frazier said. "We're not conceding anything. If we play as well as we did at home Sunday, we can win."

Greg Geyer Named Athlete Of Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Western Columbus shortstop Greg Geyer was named the Mid-American Conference Spring Athlete of the Week today by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Geyer, a senior, upped his batting average from .250 to .411 in seven games last week. He collected 15 hits in 24 trips to the plate and knocked in eight runs, one of them in the 11th inning against Wisconsin. Western Michigan won the game 12-11.

Cards Top Houston

By FRED ROTTENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Time hasn't caught up to Lou Brock yet — and either has catcher Johnny Edwards.

The Houston catcher now knows how fast the 34-year-old Brock can cover the 90 feet between the bases — faster than he can throw. The St. Louis speedster tested Edwards' arm three times and three times the arm came in second.

"I don't think he's slowed down that much," said Houston Manager Preston Gomez after his team was victimized by Brock and the Cardinals 8-2. "And he probably knows how to run better."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Chicago Cubs 5-3; the San Diego Padres whipped the New York Mets 10-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers overcame the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 and the Montreal Expos trimmed the San Francisco Giants 8-4.

Brock, who has now stolen 646 bases in his career, the ninth best mark in history, is off to his fastest start with a league-leading 11.

The spring has not always been the best base-stealing season for Brock, who has now stolen three bases in a single game 14 times.

Besides his steals, Brock contributed three hits and two runs to the St. Louis attack which backed Sonny Siebert's eight-hit pitching.

Reds 5, Cubs 3

The Cubs ended Roger Nelson's no-hitter in the sixth and Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson ended his night in the seventh, lifting him for a pinchhitter with the Reds ahead 2-1.

The pinch-hitter, Terry Crowley hit a sacrifice fly, making the score 3-1, and the Reds added two runs in the eighth.

Dodgers 5, Phillies 3

Pinch-hitter Tom Paciorek slugged a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth to rally the Dodgers over the Phillies, who had taken a short-lived 3-2 lead in the top of the inning.

Padres 10, Mets 2

Even the last-place Padres are picking on the defending National League champs.

Randy Jones tossed a seven-hitter and John Grubb knocked in four runs with a single, double and three-run homer to drop the Mets for the 10th time in their first 13 games.

The Padres shelled Jon Matlack, 0-1,

CHS Thinclads Win Wilmington Tri Meet

Tribe Stops Oakland, 2-1

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Spitter, spitter, who's got the spitter? Not Gaylor Perry.

"I didn't see a spitter," said Oakland's Gene Tenace after hitting against Perry Tuesday.

The reknown "greaseball" pitcher beat the A's 2-1, but they did not see his special pitch. As a matter of fact, they did not see much of anything else.

Oakland Manager Alvin Dark looked — and also saw no spitter.

And what did Gaylor Perry say? Not much — he was just happy to beat Oakland for the first time in his career.

"I think the law of averages was long overdue," said Perry after eight straight defeats at the hands of the A's.

In the other American League games Tuesday, the Kansas City Royals whipped the Boston Red Sox 5-2; the Baltimore Orioles nipped the California Angels 4-3 in 10 innings; the Minnesota Twins nudged the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in another 10-inning affair and the Chicago White Sox downed the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2.

National League scores: Cincinnati 5, Chicago 3; St. Louis 8, Houston 2; San Diego 10, New York 2; Los Angeles 5, Philadelphia 3 and Montreal 8, San Francisco 4.

Without his No.1 pitch, Perry scattered eight hits. He got support from Charlie Spikes, who hit a two-run double for the Indians' winning margin.

Spikes' two-out double in the seventh broke a scoreless pitching duel between Perry and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter, who went the distance and allowed just three hits.

Ray Fosse provided Oakland with its run on a two-out homer in the ninth, his second of the American League baseball season.

Royals 5, Red Sox 2

Buck Martinez' single knocked in the winning run during a three-run, ninth-inning rally that carried Kansas City over Boston.

Orioles 4, Angels 3
Rich Coggins stroked a two-out single in the bottom of the 10th inning that snapped a tie and gave Baltimore its victory over California.

Twins 1, Tigers 0
Steve Braun smashed a leadoff home run in the 10th inning, powering Minnesota over Detroit.

The homer shattered a strong pitching performance by Detroit's Lerrin LaGrow, 0-2, who went the distance and gave up eight hits.

Bill Campbell, 2-0, who relieved starter Dick Woodson in the 10th inning, was the winner.

White Sox 3, Brewers 2
Dick Allen broke out of a slump, stroking two hits and scoring two runs, to lead Chicago over Milwaukee.

Pattison Wins Match

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Andrew Pattison of Rhodesia defeated Australian John Alexander 6-3, 7-5 in Johannesburg Tuesday to win his second tennis title in 10 days and earn his second $10,000 first-prize check in the process.

The 25-year-old Pattison, winner of the Monte Carlo World Championship Tennis Red Group event on April 14, got past Alexander to win the Clows Classic singles final.

He teamed with American Jim McManus in the doubles, hoping for a third title, but the South African duo of Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan scored a 6-4, 6-2, 7-6 triumph.

In a WCT Blue Group match, it took John Newcombe two hours to score a 6-7, 6-2, 6-3 victory over 25-year-old Brian Fairlie of New Zealand in opening round action at the $50,000 Holton Classic.

Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia cruised past Earl "Butch" Buchholz of St. Louis 7-5, 6-0; unseeded Dick Crealy of Australia upset California's Jeff Borowiak 6-1, 7-6, and Charles Pasarell tripped Australia's Owen Davidson 6-4, 6-2 in other first-round matches at the Holton.

Second-seed Rod Laver held off fellow Australian Colin Dibley 7-6, 6-4 in a first-round WCT Green Group match. Meanwhile, Roscoe Tanner clipped Vladimir Zednik of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-7, 6-3; Harold Solomon of Silver Spring, Md., defeated Bill Brown of Omaha, 6-0, 6-4, and American Tom Edelfsen outlasted Sweden's Ove Bengtson 6-3, 1-6, 7-6.

At a $50,000 women's tennis circuit event in Philadelphia, Rosemary Casals of San Francisco coasted to a 6-2, 6-4 triumph over Pat Bostrom of Seattle in a first-round match. Helen Gourlay of Tasmania ousted Sally Greer of Miami 6-2, 6-3; Kathy Kuykendall won a two-hour struggle with a 6-4, 5-7, 6-3 decision against Marcie Louie of San Francisco, and Janet Newberry of La Jolla, Calif., dropped Kristy Pigeon 7-5, 6-1 — also in first-round play.

Chicago Black Hawks Defeat Boston, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — "For 60 minutes I was going one way and the puck was going the other way, and all of a sudden it was there," said Jim Pappin whose goal at 3:48 of a sudden death overtime lifted the Chicago Black Hawks to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Bruins Tuesday night.

The triumph gave the Hawks, who were trailing 3-1 in the third period, a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven semifinal round of the Stanley Cup playoff.

NFL Owners Eye Expansion Plans

NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League owners went back into session today to consider the details of what seems to be an almost certain expansion beyond its current 26 clubs.

After listening to what Commissioner Pete Rozelle called, "a lengthy, comprehensive report," from the league's expansion committee Tuesday, the owners adjourned for the day. "We hope," said Rozelle, "to have a vote tomorrow."

That meant another day of waiting for five cities bidding for NFL franchises. They are Memphis, Honolulu,

Tampa, Seattle and Phoenix. "We've waited this long," said a representative of one of the bidding cities. "We can wait another day."

It appears that the wait will be worthwhile for some of the cities. The committee's report to the NFL owners supported expansion and touched on all aspects of the matter from a timetable to stocking new teams to financing.

Rozelle said the owners had held considerable discussion following the report but would not indicate whether the issue could be resolved quickly.

Rozelle indicated that the discussion among the owners now centers not so much on whether the NFL should expand as it does on how, when and to where it should expand.

Rozelle admitted that expansion wasn't the only thing the owners discussed in their day-long meeting. "I think," he said smiling, "the World Football League was touched on."

The Commissioner said he did not feel that the development of the rival league had anything to do with NFL expansion. "It's not really relevant to their operation as far as we can see," he said. He did, however, note that seven of the 12 NFL cities already had NFL teams.

Rozelle said he was deeply troubled over the signing of future contracts with the new league by NFL stars such as Larry Csonka, Calvin Hill, Kenny Stabler, and others.

"I think it's very bad for pro football," the commissioner said. "It creates conflicts of interest and divided loyalties. I consider it very, very unhealthy."

Solons Urge Normal Relations With Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation aimed at normalizing relations with Cuba was proposed Monday by Reps. Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Ohio, Joel Pritchard of Washington, and Alphonzo Bell and Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California.

The four congressmen said in a joint statement that the "climate on both sides of the Caribbean Sea today is one leading toward cooperation rather than alienation."

The proposed measure would remove the prohibition against providing economic aid to Cuba and countries that trade with Cuba. However, present restrictions on military assistance would remain.

Cincy Reds Beat Chicago

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A five-inning, no-hit stint by a Cincinnati Reds pitcher and a 5-3 victory over nemesis Chicago would normally be cause for celebration.

But a rumble of disharmony emerged from the locker rooms after Tuesday night's bittersweet triumph over the Cubs.

Roger Nelson, angry over being pulled with a one-hitter going, was nowhere to be found. Johnny Bench gave relief pitcher Pedro Borbon a verbal dressing down. And Manager George "Sparky" Anderson said he'll continue with the quickest hook in the West.

The Reds, who went into the game with only eight victories in the last 24 meetings with the Cubs, rode Tony Perez' seventh homer of the month to their fourth triumph in the last five games.

Over .500 for the first time in two weeks, Cincinnati was to send last year's 19-game winner, Jack Billingham, 2-1, against Bill Bonham, 1-2, in today's 12:30 p.m. game.

Bench's stern talk to Borbon came after the Reds gave the relief ace a 5-1 lead going into the ninth inning.

"For two innings he didn't throw a ball above the knees," said Bench, in praise of Borbon's control.

Then "he got that 5-1 lead and he stopped bearing down. He's too good to let any runs score. I believe in him so much it makes me mad when he makes mistakes," said Bench.

"There's no telling how he really is," Bench said of Borbon, who last year anchored the bullpen with an 11-4 record and a club-high earned run average of 2.16.

"If he ever gets the idea, we're going to zoom," said Bench.

Nelson, 1-2, left the clubhouse before reporters could corner him on his finest outing as a Red. He didn't give up a hit until the sixth inning with two out when rookie Bill Madlock singled. Anderson, who has been yanking his pitchers at the first sign of trouble, said his actions needed no defense.

"We weren't scoring any scores, and I had a chance to get some. I got six good innings from him (Nelson) and that's all I want when I've got Borbon in the bullpen," said Anderson.

Perez, on one of the hottest streaks of his career, made it four homers in the last five games. He's 10-for-21 during the stretch.

The homer came off Cub starter Ken Frailing, 2-1, who went into the game with a brilliant 0.56 earned run average.

"I'm hitting the ball even better than 1970," said Perez, who had 10 homers in April that year. He now leads the league in homers.

Dave Concepcion had two hits to drive in a pair of runs.

The Cubs threatened in the ninth, with George Mitterwald driving in two runs with a single. Chicago finished with three hits.

PING PONG CHAMPS — Champions and runners-up in the Pickaway County Ping Pong Tournament, Saturday, held at the YMCA, front to back, are: age 9 to 11, Barry Sealock, third; David Justus, second; Marty Minor, first; age 12 to 15, Bob Chalfin, first; Jeff Davies, second; Fred Palm, third. Players went through four rounds to win the tournament. Only one girl, losing in the first round, entered the county tournament.

Oliver Bares Complaints About Shift Of Positions

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al Oliver, ranked at flip-flopping between centerfield and first base, says his identity crisis could cost him superstardom.

"I've never seen a superstar play more than one position," he protested as Pittsburgh prepared to open a two-game set tonight in Atlanta.

Oliver started the season in center, but Manager Danny Murtaugh moved him to first during Pittsburgh's 3-10 start.

Murtaugh says Pittsburgh is stronger defensively with Dave Parker in center instead of at first.

Oliver agrees, but he says that's no consolation for the damaging affect he feels the switch will have on him individually.

"This is the low point of my career," he declared. "If I didn't have my family to support I would be gone."

Oliver, who started his Pirate career six seasons ago as a first baseman, doesn't prefer either position. He just wants to play one exclusively.

"Sure, I can play good centerfield and good first base," he acknowledged, "but I would rather play one position and be great at it."

He played mostly in center last year and batted .299 and 20 homers and 99 RBIs.

"The way I feel now, I'll be satisfied to hit .250," he said. "I'm mentally drained."

Oliver also said his bank account doesn't reflect his versatility.

"The salary I'm getting paid is fine for a centerfielder," he said, "but when I'm asked to play two positions I'm the most underpaid player in baseball."

Yet his big beef is that the Pirates haven't considered his individuality.

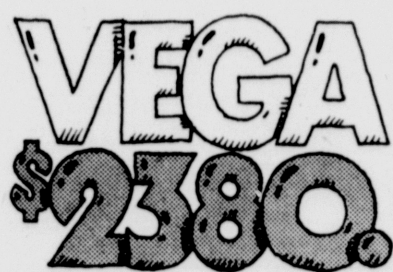

"In this business, all they care about is winning," he said. "They don't care about a guy's feelings."

Ronald Baker Named Soap Box Derby Head

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Ronald D. Baker, who was active in the Akron Jaycees' drive to take over operation of the All-American Soap Box Derby, has been named general manager for the 1974 derby.

Baker, 25, said after being appointed Tuesday by the executive committee that revamped rules for the event will be enforced rigidly.

Vega has a lower list price than any other car made in the U.S.A.

That's the Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the Vega Notchback Coupe, including dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, optional equipment, state or local taxes are additional. Other Vega models are available, of course. Such as the popular Vega Hatchback at $2492.

The quality and value of Chevrolet.

Vega makes as much sense for what it gives you as for what it doesn't cost you. Steel side guard beams in each door. Double-panel steel roof. Front disc brakes. A Full Coil suspension for a good ride. A wide stance and low center of gravity for stability and good handling. Molded full foam front bucket seats.

And a few surprises for the money.

Carpeting. Floor-mounted shift and hand brake controls. A sporty-looking instrument panel. And our overhead cam aluminum block four-cylinder engine which is both economical and responsive.

Yes, Vega Hatchback did get 29.8 miles per gallon. Results of recent Chevrolet fuel economy tests show an average of 29.8 miles per gallon for Vega at a steady speed of 55 miles per hour, the maximum Federal speed. In simulated suburban city driving (average speed 24 mph with 1.6 stops per mile), Vega averaged 26.5 mpg.

Engineers conducted the tests at our Proving Grounds. Cars were Vega Hatchbacks equipped with standard engine and transmission and popular options. In all tests, cars carried the weight of two passengers. Of course the mileage you'll get depends on how and where you drive.

Vega's fuel economy, coupled with its standard 16-gallon-rated fuel tank, offers the kind of driving range that makes lots of sense today.

A real value.

Vega is a comfortable, solid little car that's a lot of fun to drive and goes a long way on a gallon of gas. It just happens to have a very low price.

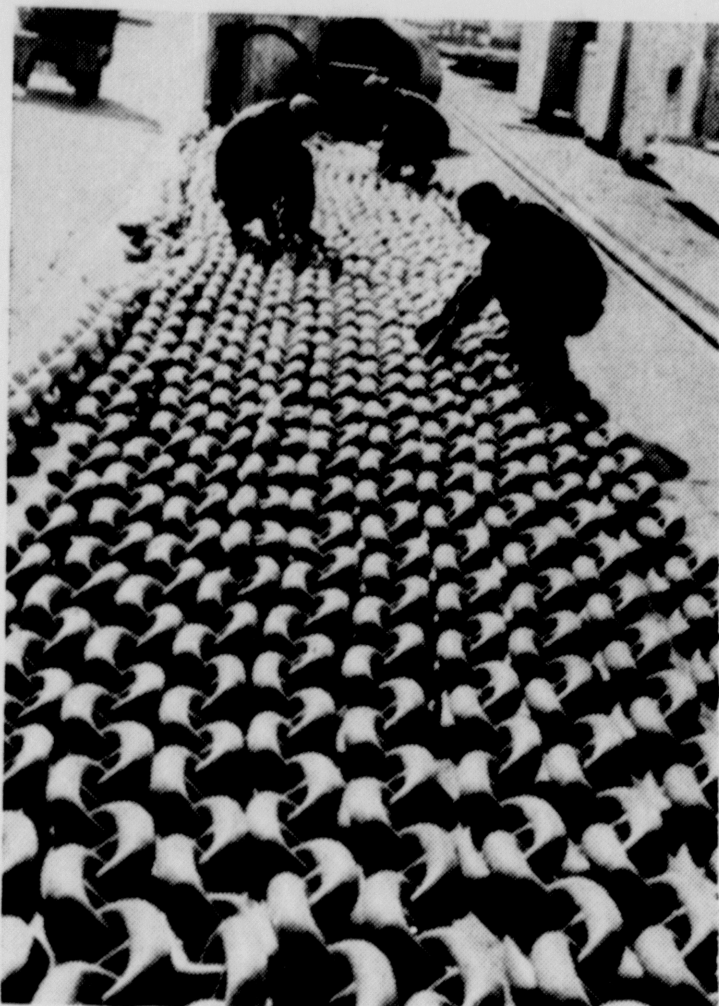

The Vega Notchback Coupe. Test drive it at your Chevy dealer's.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Watch your competition carefully. Indications are that some tricky maneuvers may be employed. Alert, however, you can spot them.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A new contact made now could be diverting as well as thought-provoking. In fact, you should find personal relationships in general highly stimulating.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Stellar influences now give you a sharp, practical outlook on projects in which you are interested. Take advantage of the situation.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Don't expect associates to be amenable to the usual approaches now. Certain situations will call for extreme delicacy in handling.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Other people may play an important part in day's activities. Much will depend on your reactions. Don't split hairs in discussions of minor importance.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Curb tendencies toward lethargy. Sidestepping obligations (not normal with you) and trying to bluff your way through could have unfortunate results.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): An excellent period in which to establish the basis for a more settled way of life. Plan all moves wisely and with future security in mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): If you expect too much, day may prove disappointing. Keeping your objectives within reasonable bounds, however — and working toward them only — will be your winning ticket.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Opposition to your ideas could cause some indecisiveness but, if you're sure you're on the right track, go ahead as planned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Attempts to alleviate an economic situation should be most successful now. The resources of another may even be put at your disposal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Confusion could result if you misinterpret instructions, miscalculate in any way. A day for checking ALL situations.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Financial matters favored — especially in the a.m. On the personal score, however, you may run into a bit of difficulty in a romantic situation.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine intellect, remarkable powers of intuition and outstanding creativity. You are inventive and could go far in technical fields; could also excel at engineering, chemistry or architecture. You have a great love of beauty, are imaginative and idealistic, almost to a fault. An unusual number of Taureans often take up art as an avocation and wind up making it a vocation, though they are quite capable of carrying on two careers simultaneously.

Traits to curb: obstinacy and a tendency to be dictatorial. Birthdate of: Edward R. Morrow, news commentator; Ella Fitzgerald, singer; Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Six years after its Los Angeles station began a local two-hour evening news show, NBC is about to begin a similar effort here next Monday at its flagship station, WNBC-TV. Because this is the nation's richest video market and erroneously considered by the townies to be the navel of new events, things like WNBC's move usually commence with far more hoopla than elsewhere in the U.S.

Such was the case the other day when the station gave an advance peep at "News Center 4," New York's first two-hour nightly news broadcast.

NBC invited print writers — even "Women's Wear Daily" sent a delegate — to hear about the show. It issued press kits outlining the new program and the journalistic histories of those involved in it.

It assembled anchormen and executives and threw open the doors of Studio 6-B, home of the show and former home of the "Tonight" show. Later, there were free eats at the 64th floor of the RCA Building.

The basic idea of all this was to publicize the show as it starts its ordeal-by-viewer. The theory is a lot of viewers who now don't watch WNBC news might tune in and hopefully remain steady customers.

That would translate into higher ratings, which are to TV what circulation figures are to newspapers. And WNBC's evening news show, faced by those of ABC and CBS stations here, now is a poor third in ratings.

Higher ratings mean higher advertising fees. But there's a second factor that's equally important. WNBC's move, if it clicks, could give a greatly improved "lead-in" audience — and ratings — to the national "NBC Nightly News," now a close second to the "CBS Evening News."

WNBC will be the fourth station in the U.S. to try locally produced, two-hour news programming. The others are KNBC in Los Angeles, which began it in 1968, and ABC-owned KABC-TV in Los Angeles and KGO-TV in San Francisco, both of which started their new shows on April 1.

On entertainment matters, ABC says at least six of its affiliates decline to carry "The Wedding Band" tonight. It's a two-hour play, set in a South Carolina seaport town in 1918 and concerns a 10-year love affair between a white baker and a black woman.

Wish I could say this Joseph Papp-produced epic had more going for it than fine acting by Ruby Dee, among others. But it doesn't.

It's just bloated soap opera with sporadic racial epithets, including one outburst near the end that contains the most racially and sexually abusive language I've ever heard on commercial TV.

They'll cause heavy viewer complaints. The sad thing is, this play, as adapted for TV, has no real defense. It's a dog, pure and simple.

Crime Fighting Goes Under Cover

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Crime-fighting doesn't get Ohio's attorney general the headlines of yesterday, but his office claims it still goes on quietly.

The war against crime in the past has taken obscure Ohio attorneys general into the big league of politics. U.S. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe may be the best example.

Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has seemingly down-played that aspect of his office, but his aides contend there are many more investigators in the office now than in years past.

Saxbe, who left the attorney general's job to become a U.S.

Virginians Gather Gifts For Xenians

JARRATT, Va. (AP)—Residents of Greensville and western Sussex counties have gathered at least enough food, furniture and clothing to fill a 40-foot tractor-trailer van for shipment to tornado-devastated Xenia, Ohio.

And the donations still are coming to collection points in Emporia, Jarrett and Stony Creek as a result of an hourly plea by Emporia radio station WEVA.

The Emporia Junior Woman's Club has been taking calls from persons offering items, and the Jaycees used city trucks Tuesday to pick them up.

Packed into the trailer to leave Sunday for Xenia will be canned food, clothes, toys, garden tools, dishes, television sets, a washing machine, furniture and other household goods.

Money given for the Xenia residents will be used to buy food and other supplies.

The Johns-Manville insulating board plant here has offered to furnish a truck for the 110-mile trip to Ohio.

Two Johns-Manville clerks, Mary Parker and Margaret Ferguson, conceived of the donation campaign after an official from the firm's Denver, Colo., office described to them conditions in Xenia since the April 3 tornado.

He notified Mrs. Parker that Xenia would get first priority on shipments of the firm's sheathing products, used in home construction.

John Bria, regional dispatcher for Johns-Manville trucking, said the goods will be delivered Monday morning to the Red Cross in Dayton for distribution to needy Xenia residents.

Old Plane Lands On Ohio Turnpike

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Air Force Capt. Harlan Gage, 30, said he landed his World War II vintage plane on the Ohio Turnpike near Hiram because he ran out of fuel.

The 30-year-old Gage and his father were en route from New York to Missouri when they ran out of gas Tuesday. Gage's plane, a converted Army liaison plane, which still bears its combat paint job, was towed off the toll road to a nearby turnpike maintenance yard.

Gage is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base.

Appeals Court Reverses Decision

The Fourth District Court of Appeals reversed a decision made by the common pleas court concerning the court's refusal to grant an injunction.

The original case filed by Herbert O. Caldwell and Martha Elizabeth Caldwell Timmons sought an injunction against Arthur Goldberg and Caravan Trailer Court Inc. The plaintiffs had requested the injunction because of a drainage ditch which emptied onto their land.

Presiding Judge Earl Stevenson and Justice Homer Abele concurred on the decision to grant the injunction.

investigative end, now is chief security officer for a Columbus bank.

The Kessler-Mann team made headlines throughout Ohio in two years, solving burglaries by gangs and even a Delaware County murder. Convictions resulted from most of its efforts.

The Division of Criminal Activities still exists, but not in its swashbuckling role of yesteryear.

"It is now principally involved in habeas corpus activity," said Jack Madigan, spokesman for the attorney general's office.

George Jenkins, first assistant attorney general, said crime investigations have actually tripled since the days of Saxbe and his successor, Paul W. Brown, now an Ohio Supreme Court justice.

"What we really did," said Jenkins, "was to reorganize the crime investigation apparatus, putting it all under the Bureau of Criminal Identification with one man in charge."

Investigators from DCA and the narcotics detail added by Brown now operate out of BCI's London office.

Jenkins said the number of detectives and narcotics agents has tripled under William J. Brown.
